

Senate Takes Up Volunteer Army Issue

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — With unsuccessful efforts to curb the Safeguard antimissile system out of the way, the Senate is plunging into a new controversy over replacing the draft with an all-volunteer Army.

Leaders of an unusual coalition seeking to junk the draft say debate will be extensive. And unless they get an agreement permitting a straight yes or no vote on merits of the question, they say they just might keep on talking.

The Safeguard issue was laid to rest Wednesday when the Senate voted 53-45 against an amendment by Sen. Edward Brooke, R-Mass., that would have barred ABM expansion to two new sites and used the $322 million saved to bolster defenses at the two sites authorized last year.

Then, on an 87-2 roll call, it crushed an amendment by Sen. Eugene McCarthy, D-Minn., that would have required governors to obtain presidential permission before issuing weapons and live ammunition to National Guard troops in civil disorders.

Only Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., voted with McCarthy for the amendment which was triggered by criticism of the role of Ohio National Guard troops in the killing of four students at Kent State University last May.

Beginning with a squabble over time to be allotted, the Senate then began consideration of the volunteer Army amendment by Sens. Mark Hatfield of Oregon and Barry Goldwater of Arizona, two Republicans found on opposite sides of many issues.

Chairman John Stennis, D-Miss., of the Armed Services Committee declared both the White House and Pentagon have said they oppose the move, at least for the moment and certainly as an amendment to the pending $19.2 billion military procurement bill.

Stennis said it would be the height of irresponsibility to adopt the Hatfield-Goldwater amendment and added: "Nothing would be more damaging to our national security."

Hatfield explained his amendment is a legislative bid to adopt the recommendations of the Gates Commission on the draft, which includes abolishing it in favor of inducements designed to provide a sufficient number of volunteers.

He emphasized it would not immediately stop inductions and live ammunition to National Guard troops in civil disorders.

Believes CBW Treaty Hurts Defoliant Ban

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A senator who hopes to outlaw the use of defoliants in Vietnam says President Nixon may be using a 45-year-old treaty banning gas and germ warfare to scuttle his proposal.

Administration officials said Wednesday that use of defoliants, tear gas and napalm would be permitted under the 1925 Geneva Protocol.

President Nixon sent the treaty to Senate for ratification on Wednesday. Most observers expect it to be approved.

Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., said his amendment to ban the use of herbicides may be the reason the President acted this week—nine months after he announced he would seek Senate ratification of the treaty.

"I think their point is to get an administration position in opposition to the amendment," the Wisconsin Democrat said. "They want to exert the pressure of having their position clearly delineated."

Although he favors the treaty, Nelson took sharp exception to the administration view stated by Secretary of State William P. Rogers, in a letter accompanying Nixon's message, that tear gas and defoliants could still be used in Vietnam.

"It is the United States understanding of the Protocol that it does not prohibit the use in war of riot-control agents and chemical herbicides," Rogers said. "Smoke, flame and napalm are also not covered by the Protocol."

Officials said the administration takes the position that last year's General Assembly 80-3 vote declaring tear gas and herbicides are covered by the Protocol is without standing in international law.

"The standing is that everyone in the world wants that way," Nelson said. "If that is their interpretation, I disagree with it."

Portugal, Australia and the United States opposed the General Assembly action.

Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said he sees no reason why the Foreign Relations Committee can't hold hearings and approve the treaty next month.

The President asked for one reservation to the Protocol permitting the retaliatory—but not first-strike—use by the United States of chemical weapons and agents. Biological weapons would be barred entirely.

The treaty was originally sent to the Senate in 1925 but never approved and returned to the White House in 1947 during a general housecleaning of old documents at the Foreign Relations Committee.

Griffin Hits Bond Sales by Arkla

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Sen. Richard E. Griffin of Crossett, has charged that Stephens Investment Co. of Little Rock sold bonds above the prevailing market value to the Arkansas State Employees Retirement Fund.

Griffin, a Democratic candidate for attorney general, said Wednesday in an interview with the Memphis Commercial Appeal that about $40,000 was paid above what was necessary for the purchase of Retirement Fund bonds between 1963-67.

He said records at the state office show that the investments "may be in direct violation of federal laws" and said he would ask the National Association of Security Dealers to investigate if violations are proved.

"If I find there were violations, I am going to sue to get the money back," he said. "I'm going to sue Stephens if I am elected attorney general."

Griffin also said he would inquire into state records for the years 1967-70.

The senator said his opponent, Ray Thornton Jr. of Sheridan, was the attorney for Stephens during the years the bonds were sold.

Stephens Investment is owned by Jack Stephens, brother of W. R. "Witt" Stephens, president and board chairman of the Arkansas and Louisiana Gas Co. Griffin said W. R. Stephens was a part-owner of the investment company. He is an uncle of Thornton.

Thornton said he had not represented Stephens Investment in securities "in a matter of years."

"I would have to check to see if I had any cases during that period of time or not," Thornton said.

He said, however, that the Legislative Joint Auditing Committee, of which Griffin is a member, had regularly audited the retirement fund.

A special firm also was hired to examine the books of the fund when Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller took office, Thornton said.

He called Griffin's charge, "reckless" and "irresponsible." Griffin showed stock quotations from reports of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith Inc. that indicated the prevailing market value of particular bonds sold to the state from 1963-67.

The Commercial Appeal said that in some instances, records showed the Retirement Fund bought bonds from one-half to one per cent above what was reflected as the prevailing market price.

The paper said the additional costs ranged from $500 to $2,000 on each transaction.

A spokesman for Stephens Inc. said today that if the firm replied to the charges the reply would be made by Vernon Giss, who was out-of-town and unavailable for comment.

Tropical Storm Dorothy Near Martinique

MIAMI (AP) — Packing winds up to 70 miles per hour, Tropical Storm Dorothy today plowed a course toward the island resort of Martinique and threatened the entire leeward chain.

The big storm's center was expected to strike Martinique about noon today, the Weather Bureau said.

Storm warnings and a hurricane watch were posted for the windward islands from St. Lucia northward and for all the leeward islands, forecasters said. The two groups are about 1,200 miles southeast of Miami.

"Being in close proximity to the center, the islands of St. Lucia, Martinique, Dominica, Desirade and Guadeloupe will experience maximum exposure to the storm," the Weather Bureau said.

Reconnaissance planes early today placed Dorothy near latitude 14.1 north, longitude 59.0 west, or about 130 miles east of Lucia.

Pilots said the storm was moving northwest at about 17 m.p.h.

"Gale force winds extended outward 100 miles in the north-east semicircle and 50 miles in the southwest semicircle," the Weather Bureau said.

Little change in direction or intensity was forecast.

indicate agreements may be announced afterward on the shifting Rio Grande River boundary between the two countries and the troubling salination of Colorado River waters that both neighbors use.

Another chief topic listed by Nixon's press secretary, Ronald L. Ziegler, is the continuing "Operation Cooperation," an effort to halt the flow of marijuana, heroin and other dangerous drugs from Mexico into the United States.

It is Nixon's second meeting with President Diaz Ordaz. They met last September to dedicate Amistad Dam near Del Rio, Tex.

This time, Diaz Ordaz is winding up his presidential affairs to turn things over Dec. 1 to President-elect Luis Echeverria Alvarez.

The Nixons, who came to Mexico 30 years ago on their honeymoon, will be staying overnight at an oceanfront private home, "Quinta Laura," which the White House said is owned by a Mexican corporation.

President Nixon said he wanted to return to Mexico this year to celebrate his wedding anniversary.

Nursing Homes Get Promise From Faubus

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Former Gov. Orval E. Faubus, a Democratic candidate for governor, has written the owners of nursing homes in Arkansas saying that increased payments to the homes for the care of welfare recipients will be a top-priority item if he is elected.

The letter accuses the Rockefeller administration of "opposition and antagonism to old people in nursing homes."

State Welfare Commissioner Len E. Blaylock, a Rockefeller appointee, has said that the Welfare Department was paying for the care of twice as many nursing home patients and spending three times as much money on them as under the Faubus administration.

Dale Bumpers of Charleston, another Democratic candidate for governor, also has written a letter to nursing home owners saying that he understands their problems and that they will receive fair treatment if he is elected.

Faubus told the owners in his letter that he doubted if "the present quality nursing home program can survive another two years of Rockefeller opposition and antagonism to old people in nursing homes."

UA Students Caught With 15,000 Pills

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Four persons were arrested, including three University of Arkansas students, and charged with illegal possession of drugs following a raid on a private residence here early this morning.

Washington County Sheriff Bill Long said an estimated 12,000 to 15,000 pills, worth an estimated $10,000, were confiscated. Long said the drugs included LSD, marijuana seeds, amphetamines and barbiturates.

Long also said a large quantity of needles, syringes and eyedroppers was confiscated.

Charged were Roger L. Howell, 27, of Springdale; David A. Peters, 20, of Paragould; Ronnie G. Kirby, 19, of Gillham, and Susan K. Koppa, 19, of Crossett. Long said Peters, Kirby and Miss Koppa were university students. Long said they told police the four lived in the house.

Long said the four were being held in jail in lieu of $2,500 bond each.

No Order to Fire, Guard Leader Says

By PERRY SMITH
Associated Press Writer

KENT, Ohio (AP) — The field commander of Ohio National Guard troops on the Kent State University campus May 4 said today no order was given for Guardsmen to fire.

Brig. Gen. Robert Canterbury, assistant Ohio adjutant general, said a yelling mob, was "closing in" on Guardsmen when the troops started shooting.

Canterbury appeared before the Presidential Commission on Campus Unrest during its second day of hearings into the disturbances in which four Kent State students were shot to death and nine others were injured.

Canterbury said the troops were on a return trip over a grassy knoll to clear the campus of demonstrators. He said Guardsmen were at the top of the hill when the mob started closing in.

"Several hundred were closing in our right flank," he said. "These people were charging—yelling, 'Kill the pigs, stick the pigs!'"

Canterbury said the first sound he heard was a single shot. "This was closely followed by a volley fired by Guardsmen."

Upon hearing the shots, Canterbury said, he immediately ran to the right flank, "grabbed two people on the shoulders and yelled, 'Cease fire,' as did the other officers."

The company of Guardsmen, totaling 96 men and 8 officers, then marched on over the hill and down to a flat area referred to as "The Commons."

Canterbury said he then ordered an ammunition check and

In testimony prepared for the subcommittee, Mack said the country's drug abuse problem "has grown radically... in the last few years, and particularly in the high school age group from where the majority of armed forces recruits and draftees are obtained."

The extent of such abuse in the armed forces, he added, probably is "not more widespread than in the civilian population." It can be "characterized as very serious," he said, but does not currently endanger the nation's military readiness.

Although efforts are being made to keep such drugs from the servicemen, he said, "for the foreseeable future we must continue to anticipate an atmosphere in which dangerous drugs... are relatively easy to obtain."

The report called for a carefully planned educational effort to be expanded to cover the armed forces, Defense Department workers and their dependents.

An Ohio Guardsman, he said, can fire his weapon without an officer's approval only upon two conditions. He said one of them was to return fire on a sniper and the other was in defense of his own life.

In earlier testimony, Kent Mayor Leroy Satrom said he is concerned about the number of liquor licenses in his town. Satrom, the leadoff witness today, said there are more than 30 liquor licenses in the city and he feels this is too many. Satrom said 4th grad.

MRS. ROBERT N. BONDS

The Bruce Memorial Methodist Church of Blevins was the scene Friday, August 7th at 8 p.m. for the marriage of Virginia Louise McLain to Robert Nolen Bonds. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell K. McLain of Blevins. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Dot Bonds and the late Roy L. Bonds of Blevins.

Rev. John W. Rushing performed the double ring ceremony. Nancy Ross, the organist, presented a program of nuptial music and accompanied Mrs. Delaine Neece who sang "As Long As He Needs Me" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Vows were exchanged before an altar decorated by baskets of white imperial gladiolas with greenery. Seven branch candelabras decorated with greenery and white satin bows were placed on each side of the arrangements. White satin bows marked the family pews.

The tapers were lighted by Johnny Bonds, brother of the groom, and Phil Thurman.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an empire style floor length gown of nylon organza and lace. The skirt featured a redengate effect. The gown was accented by a victorian collar and long lace sleeves. The three tiered lace train fell from her shoulders to chapel length. Her head piece was a cluster of jeweled lace petals with an elbow length illusion veil of imported silk. She carried a formal cascade bouquet of white miniature carnations centered with a large white orchid. Streamers and love knots of white bridal satin fell from the center of the bouquet. She also wore the traditional "something old, something new, something borrowed, and something blue."

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Sue Montgomery of Blevins. Matron of honor was Mrs. Norma McLain, sister-in-law of the bride, of Little Rock. They wore identical floor length gowns of deep blue taffeta, designed with an empire waistline, short sleeves, and with a round neckline. Each carried an old-fashioned colonial nosegay of blue and white miniature carnations against a background of white lace doilies. They were caught up with streamers of blue satin tied in love knots.

Miss Jill Garner of Hot Springs, niece of the groom, was the flower girl. She wore a floor length gown of deep blue taffeta, designed with an empire waistline, short sleeves, and a small stand-up collar. She carried a traditional white garden basket filled with blue carnation and white pom petals. Kevin Newsom of Hot Springs, nephew of the groom, was the ring bearer.

Jerry Bonds served his brother as best man. Groomsman was Jimmy Schultz of Blevins.

Ushers were Johnny Bonds and Phil Thurman, both of Blevins.

Mrs. McLain, mother of the bride, wore a pink dress with a jeweled neckline and jeweled pockets. Mrs. Bonds, mother of the groom, chose a blue and white dress with a blue scarf accenting the collar. Each had matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations trimmed to match their respective costumes.

Following the wedding a reception was held in fellowship hall of the church.

The bride's table was draped with deep blue taffeta overlaid with white lace.

The centerpiece was of white carnations and starburst chrysanthemums arranged in a crystal compote and complemented by white tapers. The three-tiered wedding cake was served by Mrs. Jackie Taylor of Blevins, and the punch was served by Miss Virginia Young of Murfreesboro.

Miss Gaye Garner, Miss Jan Garner and Miss Dede Newsom, all of Hot Springs, distributed the rice bags.

For a short wedding trip, the bride wore a blue and white coat dress with white accessories and an orchid corsage taken from her bridal bouquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Bonds are now at home in Blevins where she will attend Henderson State College and he is employed by Young American Homes, Inc., in Hope.

Out of town guests were Miss Noni Dyer, Clarendon; Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Faulkner, Dierks; Mr. and Mrs. Harlin Carlton, Mrs. Harlin Ray Carlton,

Juan Marichal Staggered to 4th Victory

By TOM SALADINO

Associated Press Sports Writer

Juan Marichal had just staggered to his fourth straight victory, stalling Pittsburgh's chances of picking up ground in the torrid East Division race but still likes the Pirates chances of winning it all.

"The Pirates have a great infield and are a great hitting club but man they have to score too many runs to win," the San Francisco right-hander said Wednesday night after giving up 13 hits to the hard-hitting Pirates, but coming out with a 7-4 victory.

"If their pitching is okay, they have the best chance to win," said Marichal after increasing his record to 7-9, after being slowed earlier in the season with an ear infection.

In other National League games, Houston trounced the New York Mets 9-4, Chicago bombed San Diego 12-2, Los Angeles downed St. Louis 4-2, Atlanta edged Philadelphia 3-2 and Montreal tripped Cincinnati 8-6.

In the American League, Baltimore nipped Milwaukee 3-2, Minnesota blanked the New York Yankees 3-0, Kansas City edged Washington 2-1, Chicago routed Boston 13-5, Oakland stopped Detroit 7-0 and Cleveland beat California 2-0.

Marichal was supported by a 10-hit Giants' attack, including a two-run homer by Willie McCovey, the big first baseman's 32nd of the year as the Pirates remained 2½ games ahead of the Mets with the Cubs only four back.

Pittsburgh left-hander Luke Walker, 10-4, had a six-game winning streak snapped, giving up a pair of runs in the opening inning on a run-scoring single to Ken Henderson and a bases-full walk.

McCovey then slammed his homer in the fifth, giving the Giants a 4-0 edge.

The Pirates got two runs in the fifth but San Francisco put the game out of reach in the eighth with three runs, including a two-run double by Bobby Bonds. Matty Alou stroked five straight hits off Marichal.

The Cubs drilled seven home runs including two by Jim Hickman to help Ferguson Jenkins gain his 15th victory.

Jenkins added one while Billy Williams, Johnny Callison, Joe Pepitone and Glenn Beckert had the others, matching the league's season high for a game set April 21 by Cincinnati against Atlanta.

Hickman drove in five runs while Jenkins had 11 strikeouts to go over the 200 mark for the fourth successive season with 207. Clarence Gaston homered for the Padres.

The Cubs also re-activated Ernie Banks, who hadn't played since July 30.

"I'm glad to get him back," said Lou Durocher, the Cubs skipper. "I'll use him as a pinch-hitter. Banks is still dangerous and if any pitcher makes a mistake, he can hit it out of the park."

"With Banks back and pitcher Ken Holtzman finished with his military duty for the summer, we figure to be in pretty good shape," Durocher said.

The Astros rocked Tom Seaver and three relievers for 14 hits in their rout of the Mets.

A pair of triples, a bases-loaded belt by Denis Menke and a two-run shot by Jesus Alou accounted for five of the Houston runs. Seaver, 17-8, left in the sixth inning, his earliest exit in 28 starts this year.

Bud Harrelson, New York's shortstop, tied a major league record with his 54th consecutive errorless game set last year by the Cubs' Don Kessinger.

Rusty Staub triggered a six-run Montreal fifth inning as the Expos dropped the Reds for the second straight game, giving Montreal the distinction of becoming the first club this season to take a series at Cincinnati.

The Expos jumped on loser Gary Nolan, 15-5, for six singles and Ron Brand capped the big fifth inning with a two-run triple. Tony Perez slugged a two-run homer for the Reds, his 10th. Bob Bailey had a solo shot

Trevino High on Money Winning List

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

SUTTON, Mass. (AP) — Lee Trevino, his slump snapped and his game back in gear, took aim on Jack Nicklaus' leading money-winning spot today.

"I've had my vacation and Jack has to skip a week here and there," Trevino said before setting out in the first round of the $160,000 Avco Golf Classic.

The flamboyant Mexican-American was shut out in his quest of a major championship this year and obviously wants the consolation of the No. 1 spot on the money-winning list.

He won two titles, the Tucson and National Airlines opens, early this year and stopped the money list most of the season until Nicklaus caught him last month.

Trevino has about $122,000 and trials Nicklaus by about $8,000. But Nicklaus, along with Arnold Palmer, is skipping this tournament and Trevino is one of the favorites for the $32,000 first prize.

Trevino snapped a mild slump last week when he fired a course record-matching 65 in the final round of the PGA National Championship.

He hadn't played well for some time before that, and his troubles reached a peak when he withdrew at Philadelphia and then was disqualified from the Westchester Classic when he overstepped and missed his tee time.

Lee took a couple of weeks off for a vacation in Acapulco before returning last week. He started poorly, then finished with a charge.

"I don't know what it is," he said. "But I've had a slump every summer for the past three years. I just don't play good in the summer."

"The way I was hitting them for a while, why it would take five people to find the ball. I didn't have any idea where it was going."

"But I've got it all back together now. I'm making the ball do what I want it to do. I'm ready to go out and play some golf now."

Trevino said he planned to play through the rest of the American tournaments this year, plus the Alcan in Ireland, the Piccadilly in England and a tournament in Australia, and will team with new PGA champion Dave Stockton to represent the United States in the World Cup competition in Argentina in November.

Quarry, Foster No Longer Suspended

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Heavyweight boxers Jerry Quarry and Mac Foster no longer are under suspension in their home state of California even though the state's athletic commission wasn't happy they fought in New York.

Quarry, who won the June 17 battle by a knockout, was fined $1,000 and Foster received a $250 assessment from the commission.

For the Expos.

Willie Davis cracked a 2-2 tie with a two-run, bases-loaded single in the ninth inning for the Dodgers triumph. The Cards had homers from Joe Hagie and Lou Brock while Manny Mota had one for Los Angeles.

Atlanta came from behind in the eighth inning on run-scoring hits by Sonny Jackson and Felix Millan for their narrow victory over the Phils. Deron Johnson and Rick Wise homered for the Phils' runs off winner Pat Jarvis, 14-10.

Both had been suspended last spring when the Olympic Auditorium promotional group in Los Angeles claimed they had first agreed to meet in that city.

The fines resulted from the fact that they had gone through with their Madison Square Garden match despite being under suspension in California.

Nevertheless, the commission held that the suspensions should be lifted even though they could be imposed again if the fines aren't paid by Sept. 30.

Twins Have 3rd Straight Triumph

By KEN RAPPOPORT

Associated Press Sports Writer

Ralph Houk was kicking up a dust storm. Ralph Houk was flailing his arms. Ralph Houk was, well, mad.

What's it all about, Ralphie? "I hope somebody got a picture of the tag," the New York Yankees' skipper snapped after Minnesota's Killebrew was called safe on a critical blooping play at home Wednesday night.

See, Houk thought he was out and let umpire Larry Napp know about it demonstratively. To no avail, though. The Twins followed with another run and later added an insurance tally to take a 3-0 victory behind Jim Perry's four-hitter.

The triumph was the third straight for the Twins after a nine-game tailspin and jumped their American League West Division lead to 5½ games over California, which lost 2-0 to Cleveland.

Third-place Oakland kept within six games of the front-running Twins by blistering Detroit 7-0; East Division leader Baltimore turned back Milwaukee 3-2; Chicago ripped Boston 13-5 and Kansas City downed Washington 2-1.

In the National League, Montreal bounced Cincinnati 8-6; Atlanta took Philadelphia 3-2; Houston smacked New York 9-4; Los Angeles beat St. Louis 4-2; Chicago whacked San Diego 12-2 and San Francisco defeated Pittsburgh 7-4.

Although Houk praised Perry's performance that cooled the Yankee bats, he was still hot long after the fourth-inning play at home that broke a scoreless tie.

With two out, Killebrew raced home from second on Rich Reese's two-out single. As Napp waved the safe sign, catcher Jake Gibbs and Houk argued heatedly that the throw from right had beaten the Killer.

"When the catcher turned to make the tag, his glove was behind the plate," said Napp. "The runner slid across the plate and into the glove. I call them like I see them."

"I think that's ridiculous," said Houk. "An easy-going guy like Jake doesn't get that mad about every play. You could see the slide marks where he didn't make it."

And Killebrew? "I was safe ... I was in there," said Charmin' Harmon. That opened the door for another run on Leo Corderas' RBI single. And the Twins shut off all post-game debates when Killebrew doubled to score Danny Thompson with an insurance run in the eighth.

Dennis Higgins bailed Rich Hand out of a wobbly eighth inning and pinch-hitter Chuck Hinton delivered a run-scoring double in Cleveland's victory over California. It was Hand's fifth victory of the year, and his third straight over the Angels.

Diego Segui mystified Detroit on four hits as the A's halted a four-game slide that had dropped them from second to third in the West. Don Mincher hit a two-run homer, his 21st, for the winners.

Merv Rettenmund rifled a two-out, run-scoring single in the eighth to snap a 2-2 tie and give the Orioles their victory over the Brewers. It made an 18-game winner of Mike Cuellar and boosted Baltimore's East lead to 11 games over New York.

The White Sox, losing by three going into the ninth, shelved Red Sox hurlers for 11 runs on 10 hits. The cluster tied an American League record held by the New York Yankees for most runs in the ninth inning.

Paul Schaaf rapped a leadoff homer in the seventh, snapping a 1-1 tie, and powered Kansas City over Washington. Dick Drago, who hadn't won a game in nearly two months, pitched a four-hitter.

Dennis Shaw $100,000 Benchwarmer

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Walt Sweeney might have returned to the San Diego Chargers empty-handed, but at least he has a job waiting for him. Dennis Shaw, on the other hand, comes to the Buffalo Bills with a fist full of dollars and only a seat on the bench assured.

Shaw, who had been asking a reported $375,000 to sign with the Bills, finally settled Wednesday for a reported $100,000 in salary and bonuses over three years. That assured him a place on the team, and probably on the bench.

Buffalo, desperately in need of a good and healthy quarterback in recent years, has five of them now from which to select Jim Harris, Dan Darrah, Tom Sherman, Virgil Carter and Shaw.

Sweeney, however, lost his case for retirement and came back to the Chargers without the no-cut clause in his contract he was demanding.

"I need protection in case I would go and break my leg and couldn't play again," he had argued. The eight-year veteran and All-Pro guard ended his two-day retirement, although he still has yet to sign his pact.

"I made a rather hasty and emotional decision," Sweeney said, expressing regret at his brief retirement. "I was acting selfishly without thinking of my family or my teammates."

However, he was fined an unknown amount by General Manager Sid Gillman, and then returned to his starting position on the offensive line.

There were several other retirements Wednesday that could stick longer than Sweeney's. Fringe players Paul Feldhausen, an offensive tackle with Boston, and George Youngblood, a defensive back with the Chicago Bears, announced they were leaving football.

A few others switched teams. New Orleans picked up guard-kicker Justin Canale, a five-year veteran, on waivers from Buffalo, and Minnesota obtained defensive back Seth Miller on waivers from Atlanta.

Shaw, scheduled to arrive in Buffalo from San Diego today, has been working out with San Diego State the past three weeks, but was not expected to see action in Buffalo's exhibition game Friday night against Philadelphia. In fact, he might not see too much action this season.

Despite his mark of leading the nation in yardage last season with San Diego State, the 6-foot-2 Shaw, Buffalo's No. 2 draft pick, is likely to spend much of the season on the sidelines. Currently, the Bills plan to start with Harris, who was out almost all of his rookie year last season with injuries.

However, Shaw was described as "pleased" at the money he got for signing, and so were the Bills.

Sweeney's brief absence, however, lingered with the Chargers, who still are missing All-Pro receiver Lance Alworth, who retired in a dispute over money.

"The next guy that says he's retiring and walks out of camp is through," said Coach Charlie Waller. "I'm going to take his word for it and put him on the retired list and then he won't be able to work."

Protests Mar Winner of Contest America Cup Boat Race

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — With one protest already rejected and another scheduled to be ruled on today, the four United States yachts competing for selection as the defender in the America's Cup continue their series of races on Rhode Island Sound.

Intrepid faces Heritage and Valiant opposes Weatherly in the third day of the final trials.

Following Wednesday's races, Valiant had a 2-0 record, Intrepid and Heritage were 1-1 and Weatherly 0-2—but all that is dependant on a ruling on a protest by Heritage against Valiant.

Skipper Charles Morgan Jr. of Heritage hoisted the protest flag at the start of his race against Valiant Wednesday contending Valiant violated his right of way in a starting line foul.

He claimed Valiant was to windward and thus required to give way, although both were on the same tack.

Valiant went on to defeat Heritage by 3 minutes, 47 seconds, building an advantage on every leg in good conditions with 10 to 15 knot southeasterly wind.

Intrepid easily whipped Weatherly in the first race by 7 minutes, 31 seconds over the triangular 24.3-mile course.

To add to the confusion presented by Heritage's protest, there was a protest involving the two yachts competing for the right to challenge the United States for the Cup in September.

Sir Frank Packer of Australia, who heads the Gretel II syndicate of Australia, contended there was a flaw in the measurement of his craft as well as in that of France, the French contender. The two meet Friday in their series.

Sir Frank asked that both boats be remeasured, protesting the measurer's interpretation of the rules.

However, the International Yacht Racing Union's Race and Protest Committee, headed by Dr. Bepe Croce of Italy, rejected the protest, finding conditions relating to the measurement had met requirements. It saw no reason for further action.

China Backing Guerrillas in Mid-east

By JOHN RODERICK TOKYO (AP) — Communist China has made it clear it opposes the Israeli-Arab cease-fire and supports continued resistance by Palestinian guerrillas. But China faces a dilemma how to exploit its position in the Middle East in face of the acceptance of the cease-fire by Egypt and Jordan.

In backing the guerrillas, Red China plainly runs the risk of alienating Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser. On the other hand, if the U.S. peace plan breaks down, it will be in a position to say "we told you so."

The fact remains that though the Chinese have long insisted they—and not the Russians or the Americans—are the true friends of the Arabs, their hearts have been with the guerrillas who espouse Mao Tse-tung's philosophy of protracted war.

Hsinhua quoted approvingly on Aug. 13 the words of an Al Fatah guerrilla: "As taught by Chairman Mao, our principle is to fight 'a strategically protracted war and campaigns or battles of quick decision.'"

One of the leaders of a training camp for guerrillas was quoted by Hsinhua as saying: "U.S. imperialism is stepping up its plot of 'peaceful solution' of the Middle East question. Our reply is to enlist and train more Palestinian and Arab youth as guerrilla fighters and conduct more battles. Chairman Mao, the great leader of the Chinese people, has taught us: 'U.S. imperialism, which looks like a huge monster, is in essence a paper tiger, now in the throes of its death-bed struggle.'"

HOPE (ARK.) STAR, Printed by Offset Laura Baugh in Women's Amateur Meet

By KAROL STONGER associated Press Sports Writer DARIEN, Conn. (AP) — Laura Baugh, a 15-year-old, 5-foot-5 blonde Californian who would like to play on a boys high school golf team, emerged as one of today's quarter-finalists in the U.S. Women's Amateur Golf Championship dominated by youth.

Miss Baugh, the 1970 Los Angeles and Long Beach city champion and Southern California girls' champion, meets American Curtis Cup player Shelley Hamlin, a 21-year-old student at Stanford University, in the second of today's four matches.

The youngest girl in the tourney, who will enter the 10th grade in "whichever high school will let me play on the boys team," disposed of Dianne Dailley, 21 of Frankfort, Ky., 3 and 2 after going 20 holes to eliminate Mrs. I. C. Robertson, Glasgow, Scotland, in the morning round.

Miss Baugh, who lives in Los Angeles with her mother, plays out of Cocoa, Fla., where her father is a resident.

Another relative newcomer, Mrs. Richard Canney of Centerville, Va., a 25-year-old mother of three who is playing in her second amateur, faces youthful Cynthia Hill, 21, St. Petersburg, Fla., one of four American Curtis Cup teammates left in the 70th annual tournament over the Wee Burn Country Club course.

Mrs. Canney, a runnerup in the 1962 U.S. Girls Junior Championship and whose husband is a pro at the Chantilly, Va., National Golf Club outside Washington, D.C., blanked Mrs. Albert Bower of Pelham, N.Y., to win 6 and 5 Wednesday afternoon.

Jane Bastanchury, 22, a Curtis Cupper from Whittier, Calif., who disposed of teammate Mrs. Paul Dye Jr., of Indianapolis 5 and 3, will face Monnie Lauer, a 19-year-old Michigan State University student from Union Lake, Mich.

The only veteran left in the tourney, Mrs. Mark A. Porter, the 1949 winner from Riverton, N.J., will meet 21-year-old Martha Wilkinson, tournament medalist and Curtis Cup team member from Whittier, Calif.

Questions Behavior of Friends

NEW YORK (AP) — The mother of Mary Jo Kopechne has questioned the behavior of two friends of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy after the accident that took her daughter's life last summer.

Writing in the current issue of McCall's Magazine, Mrs. Kopechne also said she believed Kennedy's story that he was driving Mary Jo to the ferry on Chappaquiddick Island when he took a wrong turn and his car plunged off a wooden bridge. Miss Kopechne drowned. Kennedy escaped serious injury but did not report the accident to authorities for several hours.

Mrs. Kopechne was highly critical of the inquest into the accident. Referring to Judge James A. Boyle's statement that he believed Kennedy had lied about his destination, she wrote:

"This conclusion, by a man who didn't know Mary Jo, leaves a bad taste in our mouths and we absolutely reject it and any implications that flow from it."

The behavior of Kennedy's two friends, Joseph Gargan and Paul Markham, is inexplicable and was not explained at the inquest, Mrs. Kopechne said. She asked why they did not call authorities when Kennedy, having escaped from the submerged car, summoned them to help him try to rescue Mary Jo.

Markham, reached for comment in Boston, said: "I gave what I thought was all the facts. I am aware of under oath at the inquest, which is now a matter of public information. I don't want to comment further on it."

Mrs. Kopechne said she believed the senator was in shock after the accident, thus explaining his failure to notify authorities. But she said that the friends, "both cool-headed lawyers," did not even call Edgar-town to see if Kennedy was safe on Martha's Vineyard after he swam from Chappaquiddick.

Ray Bare: 1st Ark. 10 Game Winner

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Righthander Ray Bare became the Arkansas Traveler's first 10 game winner Wednesday night by hurling a 5-0 shutout at the Albuquerque Dodgers in a Texas League game.

The Dodgers gave up three unearned runs in the first on three errors behind lefthander Dave Allen and Bare coasted in the rest of the way.

The Dodgers filled the bases against Bare in the ninth with one out on three singles, but catcher Joe Ferguson bounced into a game-ending doubleplay.

Ed Gagle's slammed his 14th homer of the year in the third inning. It was his fourth in the last five games against Albuquerque.

In other Texas League action, Shreveport shut out Dallas-Fort Worth 7-0, Memphis routed Amarillo 8-2 and El Paso defeated San Antonio 9-5.

Questions Behavior of Friends

NEW YORK (AP) — The mother of Mary Jo Kopechne has questioned the behavior of two friends of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy after the accident that took her daughter's life last summer.

Writing in the current issue of McCall's Magazine, Mrs. Kopechne also said she believed Kennedy's story that he was driving Mary Jo to the ferry on Chappaquiddick Island when he took a wrong turn and his car plunged off a wooden bridge. Miss Kopechne drowned. Kennedy escaped serious injury but did not report the accident to authorities for several hours.

Mrs. Kopechne was highly critical of the inquest into the accident. Referring to Judge James A. Boyle's statement that he believed Kennedy had lied about his destination, she wrote:

"This conclusion, by a man who didn't know Mary Jo, leaves a bad taste in our mouths and we absolutely reject it and any implications that flow from it."

The behavior of Kennedy's two friends, Joseph Gargan and Paul Markham, is inexplicable and was not explained at the inquest, Mrs. Kopechne said. She asked why they did not call authorities when Kennedy, having escaped from the submerged car, summoned them to help him try to rescue Mary Jo.

Markham, reached for comment in Boston, said: "I gave what I thought was all the facts. I am aware of under oath at the inquest, which is now a matter of public information. I don't want to comment further on it."

Mrs. Kopechne said she believed the senator was in shock after the accident, thus explaining his failure to notify authorities. But she said that the friends, "both cool-headed lawyers," did not even call Edgar-town to see if Kennedy was safe on Martha's Vineyard after he swam from Chappaquiddick.

Q—Can a man who is a confirmed alcoholic stop drinking suddenly without any ill effects? Would excessive drinking cause him to lose his appetite and lose weight?

A—Because sudden withdrawal of alcohol from a heavy drinker often causes the shakes and may cause delirium tremens, it should be done in a hospital. Excessive drinking does cause loss of appetite and weight.

The old man introduced himself as Y and remarked that his friend Z had told him that he might enjoy watching a duplicate game. The club members, who had remembered meeting Z, A and B on their visits, invited him to stay and play. He accepted the invitation and sat North.

He agreed to play Blackwood and, on the very first hand, responded to both four and five no-trump. His partner closed the bidding at seven no-trump and West opened the 10 of spades.

"May I see your hand, partner?" asked Y. "In the old days, my partner Z was always declarer and the only real fun I got was to watch him operate." The hand was passed over to him after the opponents gave permission. South remarked, "It's a tough one, isn't it?"

Y said nothing and started to hum a tune. Eventually South won the spade in his own hand, cashed the ace and king of clubs to discard the queen of diamonds from dummy and ran off all the hearts. At the end, he had to fall back on the diamond finesse and was down one.

"Could I have made it?" he asked.

"Yes," replied Y. "You didn't have to be a better player, merely a better student of music. I was humming 'Tales from the Vienna Woods'."

Y had seen that a Vienna coup could probably be the winning play. South cashes his ace of diamonds and runs off spades and hearts to come down to ace-king-small of clubs in his hand and the queen of diamonds, jack of clubs and six of spades in dummy while poor West is squeezed in the minor suits.

giving me Librium for a nervous condition caused by alcoholism. He suddenly changed to Sparine. What could be the reason for this?

A—Such changes are usually made to avoid unpleasant side effects or drug dependency.

Q—Can disulfiram (Antabuse) be bought without a prescription?

A—No. It should be taken only under medical supervision.

Q—Is a man who regularly drinks three to five pints of beer daily an alcoholic?

A—Not necessarily, but he's heading in that direction.

Q—My sister has an acute myelitis and was paralyzed from her hips down. She is making a slow recovery. Is there any cure for this? Is it related in any way to multiple sclerosis?

A—Myelitis is an inflam- mation of the spinal cord. Although there are several varieties of this disease, including polio, there is no specific cure. The severity of the disease varies widely. Aside from the fact that multiple sclerosis and myelitis both involve the spinal cord, there is no connection between the two.

HE DOESN'T LIKE HER "LIBERATION FRONT"

Dear Helen:

I read a couple of times that "all the high school girls" were going bra-less. All? Not in our town, but maybe we're just slow. Well, I showed up the last day of summer school without mine (mainly because they were both in the wash), and the boy I've got my eye on had a fit. He said guys make bets about which girls don't wear bras, and the shedders are either bragging or advertising, neither of which fit me!

I hit him with the old "truth in packaging" comeback, but I'll have to admit I sorta agree with him. While I haven't exactly got a hopeless chest, it looks better with a little build-up...and so do my clothes.

But he was so stuffy and bossy that I can't let him win. Must I go bra-less just to show him there's nothing wrong in trying out a new style? After all, I don't hassle (cq) his muscle shirts, even if he isn't made like Tom Jones. — NOT QUITE

ABREAST OF THE TIMES
Dear NQAOTT:

Isn't often a girl gets a chance to let a guy win an argument she'd rather lose anyway, so call his stuffiness the "male protective instinct," and be happy he is interested enough to care what other boys bet.

Then study your figure and wear (or don't wear) what suits it best—and that includes girdles, minis, hals, jewelry, as well as bras. — H.

P.S. My friend, the buyer for a large department store chain, tells me bras are holding up well, but girdles are slipping sales-wise, that is.

"All the girls are going braless" ranks with "midis have made it" as the fall's biggest fashion exaggeration. — H.

Dear Helen:
A girl I know is hung up on one of my best friends, but he doesn't like her and I do.

He tried to explain to her, but she is too pig-headed to get the message. I try to let her know I'm ready and waiting, but ditto.

Is there some way to make her stop liking him so it might work out for me? — LEO

Dear Leo:

Propinquity and patience often win. Be there when she needs you and don't rush things. But just in case it doesn't work out, stay friendly with other girls. —

Dear Helen:

I was wondering why people get so excited when they're called for jury duty. I mean they groan and moan as if it's the worst thing that could happen.

I really regret being only 15 so I can't serve. It would be a great way to help. You'd feel you really had a say-so in the law.

Of course I might get tired if I were on a hung jury that took weeks to persuade, or worried if I were on a terribly controversial case, but it makes me mad when people try their darndest to wiggle out of even local jury duty.

Maybe I feel this way because I love the study of government and law. — PROSPECTIVE JUROR

Dear Prospective:
Keep feeling this way, and maybe you'll be persuading jurors from the other side of the box—after you finish law school! —

Good luck! — H.

QUICK QUIZ

Q—Which of the 12 Apostles was not a Jew?
A—St. Luke, who was probably born at Antioch of a non-Jewish family.
Q—How did the Alamo get its name?
A—The original "alamo" is a kind of poplar tree, known as the cottonwood tree. The fortress, which was originally a Franciscan mission, got its name because it was located in a grove of alamo trees.

Tate Witness Would Live in Wilderness

By LINDA DEUTSCH
Associated Press Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — "I'd like to go into the wilderness with my children and get down to nature and closer to God," said Linda Kasabian, pale but smiling as she ended 18 days as the state's key witness in the Sharon Tate murder trial.

But no matter where she goes, the petite blonde said she'll always remember the murders: "It is deep within my heart what happened and I could never forget it."

Speaking softly, Mrs. Kasabian made her remarks at a news conference an hour after she left the witness stand.

Asked what she now thinks of Charles M. Manson and his three women followers on trial for the slayings, Mrs. Kasabian said: "I'd like to see them fall down on their knees and beg forgiveness."

Mrs. Kasabian, 21, once a member of Manson's hippie-style "family," was charged with murder-conspiracy in the killings of Miss Tate, and six others but was granted immunity from prosecution for her testimony. She told how Manson ordered his followers to kill. She said she went along as lookout on two murder missions, but did not enter the houses where victims were slain.

Of her future, she said, "I want to do my own thing." She said she doesn't plan to live with her husband Robert, although they'll "always be together" spiritually. She said she does not plan to live with her mother, who has been caring for her children in Milford, N.H. But she said she'll take the children—Tanya, 2, and Angel, 5 months—with her. She declined to say where she will live.

Asked if she feared reprisals from Manson's followers, she paused, then said: "I'm not going to worry about it."

In the last moments of her testimony, Mrs. Kasabian said she fled to New Mexico to see her husband after the killings in August 1969 and told him:

"Charlie flipped out and had a whole bunch of people killed." But she said she did not consider telling police.

The next witness called by the prosecution was Timothy Ireland, who was a counselor at a day camp near the actress' home. He said he heard a man's screams for about 15 seconds the night of the slayings.

He said that after the screams at about 12:40 a.m. he drove around the neighborhood but saw nothing and went to sleep without calling police.

Rudolf Weber—who lived in a house at the bottom of Benedict Canyon, an area near the Tate residence—said he was awakened about 1 a.m. on the murder night by the sound of running water. He said he saw a young man and three young women washing themselves with a hose.

Mrs. Kasabian had testified that members of the murder party were spotted by a man as they stopped at a home to wash blood off their bodies and clothes. Weber said he made a note of the license number of the group's car, but did not report it to police.

Later, he said, he threw away the note but he remembered the number when police contacted him in December. It was, he said GYY-435, the plate number which the state says was on the car used on the murder missions.

Miss Davis on FBI's Most Wanted List

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Angela Davis was seen Aug. 6 in the yellow rented panel truck in which three men and a judge they had taken hostage were shot to death a day later, two California newspapers reported today.

Miss Davis, 26, a former University of California at Los Angeles philosophy teacher, a Communist and a black militant, has been charged with murder and kidnapping in the San Rafael escape attempt and killings on the basis of evidence that she bought guns used in the shooting.

For the past five years the Burke family has met at the Fair Park for their annual family reunion. The second Sunday in August has become a family traditional get-together. Members of the family come from several states to share in the week end fellowship.

The family is proud of a heritage that goes back to 1825 in Ireland. William P. Burke, was among the immigrants who settled in Tennessee. He spent his boyhood days in Tennessee and fought in the Confederate Army during the Civil War. William became a leading army officer and was discharged as a major. Following the Civil War he and his family moved to Hempstead County and spent the rest of their life here in the county. William P. Burke and many of the older members of the family are buried at Holly Grove.

Through the years a large family has lived in many parts of the country. William P. Burke and his wife Mary reared eight boys and three girls. Wiley Burke was the oldest son. Willie Henry Burke, was the first grandson in the family. Willie is now 86 years of age and takes an active part in the reunion each year. Willie has lived and worked in Hempstead County since 1884. Members of his family are leaders in the community at this time.

Mattie Burke was the first granddaughter in the family. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Burke. Mattie died at a young age of 18.

Mrs. Emma Burke Parris is the second granddaughter in the family. Emma was born in 1891 and has an active part in the reunion each year. Mrs. Emma is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stant Burke. Her family is very active in many positions in the county and over the country.

This year the family traced their heritage back six generations. Four of these were present on Aug. 9, to share in the family reunion.

These are the persons that represent the six generations:

First Generation, William P. Burke

Second Generation, Wiley Burke

Third Generation, Willie Burke

Fourth Generation, Irvin Burke

Fifth Generation, Ronnie Burke

Sixth Generation, Russell Burke

The Burke family is very proud of their heritage in Hempstead County. The family has had a place of responsibility and respect in Civic, Religious, Education, and Governmental affairs for almost a century. They have helped to defend democracy in our country and played a leading role in the economic stability of the community. Members of the Burke family are serving in many vocations and responsibilities throughout the United States and the world. The Burke family is proud to take their place among so many other prominent families in Hempstead County.

Explosives Enroute to Watery Grave

EARLE, N.J. (AP) — A ship loaded with 5,000 tons of explosives was en route today to its final resting place, the sea bottom 7,200 feet deep and 135 miles off the Maryland coast.

The vessel, in tow of a tugboat, left Sandy Hook Wednesday and was to be sunk on arrival at the selected spot.

U.S. Navy officials said sea valves would be opened allowing water to pour into the vessel for the sinking.

The Navy switched the site of the sinking Tuesday. The original site, 150 miles off Barnegat Light, was less than a mile from where a ship filled with obsolete mustard gas and contaminated gas canisters was sunk in May 1967.

The Naval spokesman said the "conventional type" explosives had come from Army installations across the country.

Crittenden Shortage Now $47,713

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. (AP) — A second audit report filed here Wednesday showed an additional $14,320.81 alleged discrepancy in funds handled by former Crittenden County Sheriff Marion Thomas.

The total now involved in the alleged irregularities is $46,713.07 rather than the original $26,255.17 for which Thomas had been charged with embezzling.

Thomas was suspended from his post as sheriff and tax collector June 29 after being charged. Thomas said he repaid the funds.

When the charge was filed, officials said the $26,255.17 represented sums due to the county General Fund for the years 1965, 1966, 1967 and 1968 from uncashed winning parimutuel tickets at Southland dog racing track at West Memphis. A 1965 act provides that winning tickets not cashed within 180 days after the end of each racing season shall go to the track, the State Police and the county General Fund.

An initial audit filed last week showed an additional $6,000 discrepancy. The reports were filed by Clarence E. Johnson, a certified public accountant from Blytheville who was employed by the county to check into the alleged mishandling of county funds.

Johnson's report said that a Little Rock clothing firm had cashed checks from Southland, given the cash to Thomas and issued invoices for uniforms not delivered.

The report said that Charles R. York, president of Farrior's Inc., a Little Rock clothing firm, had stated he had cashed a $1,751.10 check given by Southland to pay for uniforms and law enforcement equipment and gave the money to Thomas. York's office said he was out of town Wednesday and unavailable for comment.

The report said York said that no uniforms or equipment were delivered, but that a July 10, 1965 invoice had been prepared showing a shipment of 15 straw hats, 63 shirts, 63 pairs of pants and 15 jackets.

from those industries who will resist pollution control for financial reasons." He said the governor's office would resist these pressures. McClerkin proposed a study on the government's role in pollution.

Purcell said the agency was doing an admirable job but that the commission was understaffed. Wells said there was room for improvement in the agency.

The candidates also were asked if they thought the solution of waste disposal should be left to individual cities and towns or has the problem grown so large that municipalities need to work together to dispose of recycle waste.

Gibbs said yes. Rockefeller said it was essential that municipalities and state and federal agencies combine their efforts to control and dispose of waste.

Bumpers said cooperation is a necessity and that he believed the state would have to take some sort of lead in encouraging such efforts. Faubus said passage of a statewide solid waste law could be very beneficial in bringing the problem under control.

Malone said the question was ambiguous. McClerkin said he believed cities should join in a unified effort for the disposal and recycling of waste products.

Purcell said cooperation between cities to undertake multi-city waste disposal is authorized under existing law, and "it is an entirely proper function of state government to aid our cities in achieving the most efficient and economical manner of waste disposal."

Wells said there was a need for cooperation. The candidates also were asked what they thought was Arkansas' most pressing environmental problem and how they proposed to face it.

Gibbs said industry. Hampton said "we must guard this state's beauty, resources and wildlife jealously." Rockefeller said the most pressing problem was finding the proper balance between the "often conflicting goals of conservation and economic development." He said part of the solution lies in strict enforcement of all existing anti-pollution, resource-use and public health regulations. Another part of the solution, Rockefeller said, lies in carefully zoning areas for the use intended.

Bumpers said the most pressing problem was pollution and spoilage of rivers, streams, waterways and lakes. He said he would combat the problem by asking the legislature to pass strict laws with strong fines and penalties.

Faubus said the most pressing problem is to provide proper controls for keeping pace with new sources of pollution and at the same time working to correct existing pollution.

Malone said the most pressing problem was water pollution and that he would use initiative in facing the problem. McClerkin said water pollution. Purcell said the most pressing problem stemmed from "creeping pollution." He said the problem must be attacked by reinforcing planning activities and through education.

Wells said he would attack the problem of pollution by "creating a balance on the Pollution Control Commission."

All, except Hampton who did not answer, generally agreed it was the state's responsibility to protect the workers in a factory from dangerous industrial emissions.

To the question of whether agencies such as the Game and Fish Commission and the state Planning Commission should have the final authority over proposed federal watershed projects in the state, Gibbs, Bumpers, Malone and Wells all said no.

Hampton proposed a "clearinghouse" approach. Rockefeller said the governor's office currently has authority to disapprove any federal watershed project that would not be in the state's interest.

Faubus said decisions on establishment of proposed federal watershed projects should be based on the study and findings of all interested groups and agencies.

McClerkin said there is an apparent need for more study. Purcell said watershed decisions require a coordinated effort.

The candidates also were asked if they thought it was in the state's best interest if plans were implemented by the Soil Conservation Service to turn almost all bayous and streams into drainage ditches.

Bumpers and Wells said no. Gibbs said yes. Rockefeller said there must be constant re-evaluation to insure that only those programs are undertaken that are deemed necessary and worthwhile.

Faubus said all recognize the need for good flood and erosion control, but he said some areas should be left for beauty. Malone said that those streams that flow through nonproductive and scenic lands should not be ditched, but those that flow through productive land and periodically flood and destroy crops and property and endanger health and life should be ditched.

McClerkin said he is generally opposed to widespread "channelization" of streams. Purcell said decisions on such streams should be made by qualified persons who can evaluate the total impact of such massive alterations.

The candidates also were asked if they thought someone from the state Parks, Travel and Recreation Commission should be included on the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission to represent the state's tourist interests when decisions are being made concerning the locations and types of proposed industries.

Wells, Bumpers and Gibbs said yes. Rockefeller said he believed there should be the fullest possible interagency cooperation in matters affecting the environment. He said he was interested in establishing a state environmental council to help in this regard.

Faubus said all public interests should be consulted. Malone said he was not opposed to the idea but believed they should function only in an advisory capacity. McClerkin said he would not hesitate to take any action available to him to protect an infringement on the right of future generations to clean air, water and pleasant surroundings.

Purcell said the AIDC should have an input not only from the parks commission but also from any state agencies involved in environmental planning and protection. Wells also said the Pollution commission should work with the AIDC closely.

The candidates also were asked if they thought a program of environmental education should be incorporated into

ROSCOE SMITH

Roscoe C. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. George "Boots" Smith has been promoted from assistant coordinator of special programs to assistant director of accountability for the Dallas Independent School District.

Roscoe will be working with performance contracting for the school district. This will be the first time for Dallas to cooperate with other corporations to guarantee that students will learn. If the student learns more than is expected, the company receives a bonus; if the students do not reach expectations, the company receives a penalty or no payment at all.

Roscoe says that cost-effectiveness is one area he will be dealing with. Cost-effectiveness refers to the amount of learning per dollar spent.

An Invitation to big savings at Safeway!

If you've not been shopping regularly at Safeway, we invite you to come and check the savings. We suggest that you buy your weekly necessities at Safeway. Keep a track of the price of each item. The next time you shop, compare what you are buying with the price you've noted. We think you'll find we can save you a lot of money. Isn't that a great reason for making Safeway your shopping headquarters? In addition, we guarantee you'll be pleased with the fine food we offer here.

REMEMBER. We Gladly Accept USDA Food COUPONS!

All Prices Effective Through Saturday August 22nd, at Your Safeway Store.
